

The founders of Greenpeace in Germany have elected the following as the steering committee of Greenpeace in Germany for an interim period of six months :

- William Parkinson
- Alan Pickaver
- Patrick Girard

Their responsibilities will be to manage Greenpeace in Germany on a day to day basis and to produce in six months to the Greenpeace Council a report on the overall direction of Greenpeace in Germany, including campaigns, financial administration and structure.

Specifically, the basic responsibilities are :

William Parkinson - general day by day administration of affairs of Greenpeace in Germany - Köln

Alan Pickaver - overview of proposed campaigns, both national and international

Patrick Girard - overview and day to day liaison, coordination with Council including financial affairs.

It must be clear that the steering committee shall work together as close as possible and no decisions affecting Greenpeace policy, campaigns, finance, administration shall be made by any of the steering committee without full consultation with the other members, and that if they cannot agree, a majority decision will be binding.
